

All segments of the laboratory industry are impacted by the ongoing shortage of laboratory professionals.

CONTACTS

Kathy Becker
Quest Diagnostics
Kathy.A.Becker@questdiagnostics.com

Barry Corriveau
NorDx
207.885.7818 ♦ corrib@mmc.org

Steven Deschenes
Specialty Labs
800.421.7110 x608
sdeschenes@specialtylab.org

Jane Earls
Lab Corp
earlsj@labcorp.com

Denise Fiore
Department of Laboratory Medicine
Yale-New Haven Hospital
203.688.7275 ♦ denise.fiore@ynh.org

Michael Hoyt
Roche Diagnostics
410.272.8577 ♦ michael.hoyt@roche.com

Kay Kenerson
Ortho Diagnostics (J&J)
207.643.2008 ♦ ckenerso@ocdus.jnj.com

Roseanne Lipcius
Univ. of Connecticut School of Allied Health rosanne.lipcius@uconn.edu

Donna MacMillan
Mass. General Hospital - Pathology Service
617.726.8887 ♦ dmacmillan@partners.org

Carol Martorana
Roche Diagnostics
973.443.0181 ♦ carol.martorana@roche.com

Marilyn McAllister
Rhode Island Hospital
401.444.8516 ♦ mmcallister@lifespan.org

Roberta Teixeira
Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary
617.573.3336 ♦ rteixeira@meei.harvard.edu

New England Laboratory Consortium
Promoting Laboratory Professions

A New Approach to the Workforce Shortage

New England Laboratory Consortium

Promoting Laboratory Professions

ABOUT NELC

The New England Laboratory Consortium is a collaborative group of leaders in industry, academia, and clinical laboratories in New England.

- Our mission is to develop an ongoing process to improve recruitment and retention into the clinical laboratory professions by creating public awareness and education.
- Our focus is to work on solutions for the New England region. We have formulated strategies and objectives into a plan that could serve as one model for a national program.
- Our goal is to develop materials to educate the public about the laboratory and its value.

Be a part of the solution

HOW YOU CAN HELP

We are seeking your support in this endeavor. It is in our collective best interest to work together to reverse the current staffing trends.

Current vendor support includes:

- Funding meetings and conference calls
- Funding consultative resources
- Supplying clerical support
- Providing the vendor perspective in our plans.

Future vendor support could include:

- Partnering to provide seed money
- Expertise to implement our strategic plan
- A broader perspective on the industry.

CONTACTS